RE: Fundraising Model

To whom it may concern:

Greenpeace's face-to-face fundraising model is based on monthly giving. When a member signs up with a face-to-face fundraiser, they are agreeing to ongoing monthly deductions from their bank account, debit card, or credit card. During 2012, our expense for face-to-face fundraising in Chicago was $408,542.50 and the total amount of income raised was $87,432.39. These figures represent only the exact amount of income and expenditure during the month and are not indicative of the profitability of this method of fundraising. There is a high initial expenditure (because we're paying for the initial staff time while fundraising) and in any twelve month cycle profit will appear to be a net loss, over time the program returns a net profit, because income from monthly contributors is ongoing. Our donors give between $17 and $20 on average on a monthly basis and the profitability of this fundraising method is realized months later.

If you have any additional questions or concerns about our fundraising program, please do not hesitate to contact me at (571) 265-5136 or jstarr@greenpeace.org.

Sincerely,

Jennifer Starr
