Committee(s) Assignment: Committee on Finance

ORDINANCE

WHEREAS, the City of Chicago is a home rule unit of government pursuant to the 1970 Illinois Constitution, Article VII, Section 6 (a); and

WHEREAS, pursuant to its home rule power, the City of Chicago may exercise any power and perform any function relating to its government and affairs including promoting the quality of life and the welfare of its citizens; and

WHEREAS, for over the past two decades, the number of persons smoking cigarettes has decreased in the United States, however according to reports from the U.S. Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC) and surveys of high school students, the use of smokeless tobacco among today's youth has only slightly decreased since 2001; and

WHEREAS, a greater percentage of young people are currently trying and using smokeless tobacco, and the CDC has reported that nationwide, 14.7 percent of high-school boys and 8.8 percent of all high-school students have reported using smokeless tobacco products in 2013; and

WHEREAS, each year, over a half of a million children, ages 12 to 17, try smokeless tobacco for the first time; and

WHEREAS, public health authorities, including the U.S. Surgeon General and the National Cancer Institute, have found that smokeless tobacco use is hazardous to one's health and it can also lead to nicotine addiction just like cigarette smoking; and

WHEREAS, the National Cancer Institute states that chewing tobacco and snuff contain twenty-eight (28) cancer-causing agents and its prolonged use can cause oral, pancreatic and esophageal cancer; and

WHEREAS, smokeless tobacco products are widely advertised and promoted, with the top-five smokeless tobacco companies in the United States almost tripling their total advertising and marketing expenditures from 1998 to 2012 (the most recent year for which data is available). The Federal Trade Commission has reported that in 2012, these smokeless tobacco companies spent $435.7 million dollars in advertising and promotional efforts for their products; and

WHEREAS, an expert from the CDC stated that, "Athletes serve as role models for our youth, and smokeless tobacco manufacturers have used athletes and sports figures in their advertising and marketing campaigns in order to make smokeless tobacco products appear more attractive to younger people; and

WHEREAS, the CDC expert also noted that, "Children and teens closely observe athletes' actions, including their usage of tobacco products and are influenced by what they see. Adolescents tend to mimic the behaviors of those that they look up to and identify with, including baseball players and other athletes"; and

WHEREAS, the use of smokeless tobacco has been widely used by athletes of all sports but it has now become part of the culture of baseball, not only at the professional level, but at every level from high school sports to the major leagues: and

WHEREAS, the strong association of baseball and smokeless tobacco is reinforced by the use of smokeless tobacco by players, coaches and fans at every level of the sport, both professional and amateur; and

WHEREAS, it is imperative to protect our youth from years of addiction and from serious diseases by limiting the locations that one can use smokeless tobacco; and

WHEREAS, with Opening Day of the 2016 Major League Baseball season less than a month away, it is appropriate for the City of Chicago to join the cities of Boston, San Francisco, Los Angeles and New York in banning the use of smokeless tobacco at all sporting events; now, therefore
