Re: 7419 W. Irving Park Road, Chicago, Illinois
Request a Zoning Change from RS-1 to that of B3-2

To Whom It May Concern:

I am enclosing a copy of the survey which we would ask you to consider as the site plan for this property. You will note that the property in question is currently 25 x 125 in depth. The current building is approximately 103.86 feet deep and is built from lot line to lot line. It's currently improved with a split level building, the first floor which was previously utilized as a tavern and the second floor as a single dwelling unit. The only change in the site plan would be that of perhaps a single car parking area in the rear and the remainder will be used for trash enclosure. There is no landscaping or any other changes contemplated.

In addition, we are enclosing pictures of the front elevation as well as the east and west side elevations. There will be no change to the exterior of the existing structure.

The only changes contemplated are cosmetic to the interior so that the owners can provide their own ambiance for their proposed restaurant.

Regards,

KOLPAK AND LERNER
