Attachment III

Barclays Capital Inc.

(Certification Statement)

"Barclays Bank" was founded in 1690 by John Freame and Thomas Gould as a trading company under the name "Goldsmith" in London, England. Through the process of acquisitions, the trading company evolved into a bank. In 1736, James Barclay, the son-in-law of John Freame, became a partner in the business. Eventually, in the second half of the 18th century, David Barclay the Younger joined the partnership as well. Research of certain Applicant records, supplemented by the work of a newly-retained third-party historical research firm, shows that David Barclay the Younger acquired a plantation in payment for a debt in Jamaica and became the owner of thirty-two slaves. In anticipation of their emancipation, Mr. Barclay sent the slaves to Philadelphia, Pennsylvania, where they were given crafts training. A record of the names of twenty-eight of the freed slaves has been found and contained the following references:

London (age 40-45), Bacchus (age 20-25), Simon (age 24-26), John (age 30-35), Kingston (age 23-25), Mintas (age 32-36), Nancy (approximate age 24), Dido (age 24), Bathsheba (age 34-36), Patience (age 30-34), Amelia (age 26-30), Clarissa (approximate age 35), Nancy (age 26), Sabina (age 40), Juba (age 14), Phillis (age 22), Charles (age 15), Prince (age 14), Yano (age 14), Toby (age 14), Wiltshire (age 11), Sancho (age 10), Mingo (age 10), October (age 8), Quashie (age 7), Caesar (age 6), Charlotte (age 4), and Sukey (age 3).

There is also historical evidence that during the 1700s, David Barclay the Younger, a Quaker, formed a committee of London Quakers to oppose the slave trade and subsequently became involved with the committee in taking the Quaker anti-slave trade message rationale within the United Kingdom. In a 1795 manumission document the aforementioned slaves were "liberated, enfranchised, manumitted and forever set free".

In 1896, the company became Barclay and Company Limited which subsequently became Barclays Bank PLC. Barclays has been in existence for in excess of 318 years and thus, part of its existence would have been during the slavery era. In this historical context, entities acquired during this period may have had investments or profits from the slave industry. Slavery was a heinous period in the history of both the United States and United Kingdom and, indeed, the whole world. Without reservation, Barclays condemns this industry. A third party historical research firm has been hired to assist in record research. If additional records indicating the identities of entities or persons with whom predecessor entities or owners conducted slave related business in the United States are discovered by our historical consultant, a supplement to this Economic Disclosure Statement and Affidavit regarding such information will be filed.

Attachment III

Barclays Bank PLC

(Certification Statement)

"Barclays Bank" was founded in 1690 by John Freame and Thomas Gould as a trading company under the name "Goldsmith" in London, England. Through the process of acquisitions, the trading company evolved into a bank. In 1736, James Barclay, the son-in-law of John Freame, became a partner in the business. Eventually, in the second half of the 18th century, David Barclay the Younger joined the partnership as well. Research of certain Applicant records, supplemented by the work of a newly-retained third-party historical research firm, shows that David Barclay the Younger acquired a plantation in payment for a debt in Jamaica and became the owner of thirty-two slaves. In anticipation of their emancipation, Mr. Barclay sent the slaves to Philadelphia, Pennsylvania, where they were given crafts training. A record of the names of twenty-eight of the freed slaves has been found and contained the following references:

London (age 40-45), Bacchus (age 20-25), Simon (age 24-26), John (age 30-35), Kingston (age 23-25), Mintas (age 32-36), Nancy (approximate age 24), Dido (age 24), Bathsheba (age 34-36), Patience (age 30-34), Amelia (age 26-30), Clarissa (approximate age 35), Nancy (age 26), Sabina (age 40), Juba (age 14), Phillis (age 22), Charles (age 15), Prince (age 14), Yano (age 14), Toby (age 14), Wiltshire (age 11), Sancho (age 10), Mingo (age 10), October (age 8), Quashie (age 7), Caesar (age 6), Charlotte (age 4), and Sukey (age 3).

There is also historical evidence that during the 1700s, David Barclay the Younger, a Quaker, formed a committee of London Quakers to oppose the slave trade and subsequently became involved with the committee in taking the Quaker anti-slave trade message rationale within the United Kingdom. In a 1795 manumission document the aforementioned slaves were "liberated, enfranchised, manumitted and forever set free".

In 1896, the company became Barclay and Company Limited which subsequently became Barclays Bank PLC. Barclays has been in existence for in excess of 318 years and thus, part of its existence would have been during the slavery era. In this historical context, entities acquired during this period may have had investments or profits from the slave industry. Slavery was a heinous period in the history of both the United States and United Kingdom and, indeed, the whole world. Without reservation, Barclays condemns this industry. A third party historical research firm has been hired to assist in record research. If additional records indicating the identities of entities or persons with whom predecessor entities or owners conducted slave related business in the United States are discovered by our historical consultant, a supplement to this Economic Disclosure Statement and Affidavit regarding such information will be filed.

Attachment III

Barclays Group US, Inc.

(Certification Statement)

"Barclays Bank" was founded in 1690 by John Freame and Thomas Gould as a trading company under the name "Goldsmith" in London, England. Through the process of acquisitions, the trading company evolved into a bank. In 1736, James Barclay, the son-in-law of John Freame, became a partner in the business. Eventually, in the second half of the 18th century, David Barclay the Younger joined the partnership as well. Research of certain Applicant records, supplemented by the work of a newly-retained third-party historical research firm, shows that David Barclay the Younger acquired a plantation in payment for a debt in Jamaica and became the owner of thirty-two slaves. In anticipation of their emancipation, Mr. Barclay sent the slaves to Philadelphia, Pennsylvania, where they were given crafts training. A record of the names of twenty-eight of the freed slaves has been found and contained the following references:

London (age 40-45), Bacchus (age 20-25), Simon (age 24-26), John (age 30-35), Kingston (age 23-25), Mintas (age 32-36), Nancy (approximate age 24), Dido (age 24), Bathsheba (age 34-36), Patience (age 30-34), Amelia (age 26-30), Clarissa (approximate age 35), Nancy (age 26), Sabina (age 40), Juba (age 14), Phillis (age 22), Charles (age 15), Prince (age 14), Yano (age 14), Toby (age 14), Wiltshire (age 11), Sancho (age 10), Mingo (age 10), October (age 8), Quashie (age 7), Caesar (age 6), Charlotte (age 4), and Sukey (age 3).

There is also historical evidence that during the 1700s, David Barclay the Younger, a Quaker, formed a committee of London Quakers to oppose the slave trade and subsequently became involved with the committee in taking the Quaker anti-slave trade message rationale within the United Kingdom. In a 1795 manumission document the aforementioned slaves were "liberated, enfranchised, manumitted and forever set free".

In 1896, the company became Barclay and Company Limited which subsequently became Barclays Bank PLC. Barclays has been in existence for in excess of 318 years and thus, part of its existence would have been during the slavery era. In this historical context, entities acquired during this period may have had investments or profits from the slave industry. Slavery was a heinous period in the history of both the United States and United Kingdom and, indeed, the whole world. Without reservation, Barclays condemns this industry. A third party historical research firm has been hired to assist in record research. If additional records indicating the identities of entities or persons with whom predecessor entities or owners conducted slave related business in the United States are discovered by our historical consultant, a supplement to this Economic Disclosure Statement and Affidavit regarding such information will be filed.

Attachment III

Barclays PLC

(Certification Statement)

"Barclays Bank" was founded in 1690 by John Freame and Thomas Gould as a trading company under the name "Goldsmith" in London, England. Through the process of acquisitions, the trading company evolved into a bank. In 1736, James Barclay, the son-in-law of John Freame, became a partner in the business. Eventually, in the second half of the 18th century, David Barclay the Younger joined the partnership as well. Research of certain Applicant records, supplemented by the work of a newly-retained third-party historical research firm, shows that David Barclay the Younger acquired a plantation in payment for a debt in Jamaica and became the owner of thirty-two slaves. In anticipation of their emancipation, Mr. Barclay sent the slaves to Philadelphia, Pennsylvania, where they were given crafts training. A record of the names of twenty-eight of the freed slaves has been found and contained the following references:

London (age 40-45), Bacchus (age 20-25), Simon (age 24-26), John (age 30-35), Kingston (age 23-25), Mintas (age 32-36), Nancy (approximate age 24), Dido (age 24), Bathsheba (age 34-36), Patience (age 30-34), Amelia (age 26-30), Clarissa (approximate age 35), Nancy (age 26), Sabina (age 40), Juba (age 14), Phillis (age 22), Charles (age 15), Prince (age 14), Yano (age 14), Toby (age 14), Wiltshire (age 11), Sancho (age 10), Mingo (age 10), October (age 8), Quashie (age 7), Caesar (age 6), Charlotte (age 4), and Sukey (age 3).

There is also historical evidence that during the 1700s, David Barclay the Younger, a Quaker, formed a committee of London Quakers to oppose the slave trade and subsequently became involved with the committee in taking the Quaker anti-slave trade message rationale within the United Kingdom. In a 1795 manumission document the aforementioned slaves were "liberated, enfranchised, manumitted and forever set free".

In 1896, the company became Barclay and Company Limited which subsequently became Barclays Bank PLC. Barclays has been in existence for in excess of 318 years and thus, part of its existence would have been during the slavery era. In this historical context, entities acquired during this period may have had investments or profits from the slave industry. Slavery was a heinous period in the history of both the United States and United Kingdom and, indeed, the whole world. Without reservation, Barclays condemns this industry. A third party historical research firm has been hired to assist in record research. If additional records indicating the identities of entities or persons with whom predecessor entities or owners conducted slave related business in the United States are discovered by our historical consultant, a supplement to this Economic Disclosure Statement and Affidavit regarding such information will be filed.

The Bank of New York Mellon Corporation (the "Corporation"), acting through its subsidiaries, The Bank of New York Mellon and The Bank of New York Mellon Trust Company, N.A., is trustee on thousands of bond transactions which are secured by mortgages on real property that are held in trust and registered in the name of the Bank of New York Mellon or The Bank of New York Mellon Trust Company, N.A., as trustee. The mortgages are serviced by third-party service providers who are required to provide the necessary administrative services related to the mortgages, such as paying property taxes and complying with the local real estate ordinances. From time to time, the third-party services providers may fail to fulfil their obligations, resulting in fines and judgments. Such fines and judgments may be assessed and entered against the Bank of New York Mellon or The Bank of New York Mellon Trust Company, N.A. because, as trustee, it is the lien-holder or owner of record. The third-party service provider is obligated to pay such fines and remedy or pay such judgments.

In addition, like all major institutions, the Corporation and/or subsidiaries are subject to various litigations and proceedings pursuant to which judgments, injunctions, or liens may be issued. There have been no judgments, injunctions or liens arising out of such litigations or proceedings in the last five years that would materially impair the Corporation's or its subsidiaries ability to perform the services relating to the Matter. For a description of certain legal proceedings, please see the "Legal Proceedings" section in the Corporation's Form 10-K and 10-Qs, which are available on our website, <http://www.bnymellon.com>. In addition, The Bank of New York Mellon Trust Company, N.A. has, in a very limited number of cases, been removed as trustee due to administrative service issues; none of such issues would impact the ability of The Bank of New York Mellon Trust Company, N.A. to perform the services related to the Matter.

The Bank of New York Mellon Corporation (the "Corporation"), acting through its subsidiaries, The Bank of New York Mellon and The Bank of New York Mellon Trust Company, N.A., is trustee on thousands of bond transactions which are secured by mortgages on real property that are held in trust and registered in the name of the Bank of New York Mellon or The Bank of New York Mellon Trust Company, N.A., as trustee. The mortgages are serviced by third-party service providers who are required to provide the necessary administrative services related to the mortgages, such as paying property taxes and complying with the local real estate ordinances. From time to time, the third-party services providers may fail to fulfil their obligations, resulting in fines and judgments. Such fines and judgments may be assessed and entered against the Bank of New York Mellon or The Bank of New York Mellon Trust Company, N.A. because, as trustee, it is the lien-holder or owner of record. The third-party service provider is obligated to pay such fines and remedy or pay such judgments.

In addition, like all major institutions, the Corporation and/or subsidiaries are subject to various litigations and proceedings pursuant to which judgments, injunctions, or liens may be issued. There have been no judgments, injunctions or liens arising out of such litigations or proceedings in the last five years that would materially impair the Corporation's or its subsidiaries ability to perform the services relating to the Matter. For a description of certain legal proceedings, please see the "Legal Proceedings" section in the Corporation's Form 10-K and 10-Qs, which are available on our website, <http://www.bnymellon.com>. In addition, The Bank of New York Mellon Trust Company, N.A. has, in a very limited number of cases, been removed as trustee due to administrative service issues; none of such issues would impact the ability of The Bank of New York Mellon Trust Company, N.A. to perform the services related to the Matter.

Attachment B
To
City of Chicago
Economic Disclosure Statement
Files by
The Bank of New York Mellon Corporation
(as an Entity Holding an Interest in the Applicant)

The Disclosing Party was established in 2007. The Disclosing Party has identified 60 predecessor institutions established before 1866. Among these predecessor entities is the Disclosing Party's wholly-owned subsidiary, The Bank of New York Mellon (formerly known as The Bank of New York), which was established in 1784.

There are scattered references in the records of the Disclosing Party's pre-1866 predecessors to clients located in the southern states where slavery was practiced during the slavery era. The Disclosing Party's predecessors provided business services to these southern clients which included: issuing loans to individual and correspondent banking accounts; providing reciprocal banking services for other banks; and providing bond and stock administration and depository services on behalf of other banks and municipalities. Some of these predecessors may have also invested in bonds and stocks of southern institutions or bonds issues by southern states. The southern states, municipalities, banks, companies and individuals referenced in the records are: Bank of Baltimore; City Bank of Baltimore; Stephen Duncan; DuPlanty, McCall & Co.; Bank of Kentucky; Bank of Maryland; State of Maryland; Bank of Montgomery; Bank of North Carolina; Bank of South Carolina; New Orleans Canal and Banking Company; City of New Orleans; Commercial Bank of New Orleans; Planters Bank of Mississippi; Simsville Cotton Factory; Southern Life Insurance and Trust Company; Planters Bank of Tennessee; State of Tennessee. The Bank of New York also held one or more bank accounts on behalf of Charles P. Leverich and/or his New York company Charles P. Leverich & Co. ("Leverich & Co."), Leverich was a director of The Bank of New York from 1840 to 1876, and was a Vice President (1853-1863) and President (1863-1876) of the Bank. Leverich & Co. was a New York cotton broker which had extensive dealings with southern clients from the 1830s through 1879, when the firm was dissolved. Leverich & Co. also acted as a factor for southern planters. It also appears that Leverich & Co. may have helped manage a plantation – James Porter's Oak Lawn in Bayou Teche, Louisiana – for one of its southern clients.

Based on the Disclosing Party's research, there are indications in United States census records for the period 1790 to 1860 that some directors of The Bank of New York and some officers and directors of the Farmer's Bank of the State of Delaware may have owned slaves before, during, and/or after their association with such institutions.

A predecessor of the Disclosing Party, the New York Life Insurance and Trust Company ("NYLITC") (which bears no relation to the present New York Life Insurance Company), was founded in 1830 and merged with The Bank of New York in 1922. NYLITC issued life insurance policies to some of its clients, including a few individuals who resided in the southern states where slavery was practiced during the slavery era. There are no indications in the records that NYLITC issues any slaveholder insurance policies.

The records of NYLITC reflect that in 1842, NYLITC loaned a sum of money to the Southern Life Insurance and Trust Company ("Southern Life"). This loan was secured by an assignment to NYLITC of several mortgages originated and held by Southern Life, including a mortgage dated April 1, 1837, on "Hanson's Plantation," located in St. John's County, near St. Augustine Florida and owned by John Hanson and Margaret Cook. This Southern Life mortgage included a pledge of 21 named slaves. The names and ages of these slaves are recorded in the NYLITC ledger entry for the loan and are listed in Appendix A to this statement. There are no indications in the records that Southern Life ever defaulted on this loan, or that NYLITC ever foreclosed on any of the assigned mortgages.

The Bank of America Corporation (the “Corporation”) is a large and diversified, publicly-traded institution. The Corporation, had approximately 208,000 full-time equivalent employees as of December 31, 2019, and is a global franchise, serving customers and clients around the world with operations across the U.S., and more than 35 countries. Additionally, as of December 31, 2019, the Corporation had approximately $2.4 trillion dollars in assets under management. With the foregoing understanding, and in consideration of the confidential nature of our relationships with our many hundreds of thousands of clients, employees and shareholders, it is not reasonably feasible to perform such definitive due diligence spanning the full panoply of all its related entities’ departments, customers, employees, and principals to definitively determine if there are any such relationships which may currently pose a conflict of interest to our proposed relationship with you.

However, it is the Corporation’s intent that no other relationship, direct or indirect, can or would affect or impact its performance under any contract with you. We also note that all employees of the Corporation and its affiliates and subsidiaries are subject to a written Code of Conduct which each employee is required to read and acknowledge in writing on an annual basis, that requires all employees to disclose and receive appropriate approvals for any outside activities and relationships that may pose a conflict of interest to the Corporation or its affiliates and subsidiaries, and its business activities; as a result of those disclosures, no material conflicts have been identified.

In addition, with respect to those individuals supporting this transaction, the Corporation confirms to the best of its knowledge and upon reasonable review that there are no conflicts of interest with the City of Chicago, or other entities that would disqualify the Corporation from performing the requested services.

Attachment for Section V. {Bank of America Corporation}

Disclosing Party certifies, as set forth below, to the best of its knowledge and belief that with respect to V.B.3.a.:

To the best of our knowledge and belief, after reasonable due diligence, neither Bank of America Corporation ("BAC") nor its Executive Officers and Directors identified in Section II.B.1 of this EDS is subject to any order, judgment or decree by any court or government authority in which it is barred, suspended or otherwise limited from engaging in any type of business practice.

V.B.3.b, c and e:

These filings include disclosures of investigations and litigation as required by the SRO's and federal law, and are publicly available.

BAC cannot confirm or deny the existence of any other non-public investigation conducted by any governmental agency unless required to do so by law.

Please let us know if you need any additional information.

Section VB12-13/Appendix A

The Bank of America Corporation (the "Corporation") is a large and diversified, publicly-traded institution. The Corporation and its subsidiaries had approximately 208,000 full-time equivalent employees as of December 31, 2019, and is a global franchise, serving customers and clients around the world with operations across the U.S., and more than 35 countries. Additionally, as of December 31, 2019, the Corporation had approximately $2.4 trillion dollars in assets under management. With the foregoing understanding, and in consideration of the confidential nature of our relationships with our many hundreds of thousands of clients, employees and shareholders, it is not reasonably feasible to perform such definitive due diligence spanning the full panoply of all its related entities' departments, customers, employees, and principals to definitively determine if there are any such relationships which may currently pose a conflict of interest to our proposed relationship with you.

However, it is the Corporation's intent that no other relationship, direct or indirect, can or would affect or impact its performance under any contract with you. We also note that all employees of the Corporation and its affiliates and subsidiaries are subject to a written Code of Conduct which each employee is required to read and acknowledge in writing on an annual basis, that requires all employees to disclose and receive appropriate approvals for any outside activities and relationships that may pose a conflict of interest to the Corporation or its affiliates and subsidiaries, and its business activities; as a result of those disclosures, no material conflicts have been identified.

In addition, with respect to those individuals supporting this transaction, the Corporation confirms to the best of its knowledge and upon reasonable review that there are no conflicts of interest with the City of Chicago, or other entities that would disqualify the Corporation from performing the requested services.

Attachment for Section V.D:

Please note that the Disclosing Party is Bank of America Corporation ("BAC"). BAC and its subsidiaries had approximately 208,000 full-time equivalent employees as of December 31, 2019. Accordingly, it is not possible for BAC to perform due diligence across the full panoply of associates and BAC-related entities in preparing a response to business relationships with City of Chicago elected officials. In responding to this question, the Disclosing Party did perform due diligence within the Public Finance Group of BofA Securities, Inc. to determine whether any of the Public Finance Group's employees were aware of any such relationships between the City elected officials and the Disclosing Party within the past 12 months.

Section III – Income or Compensation to, Or Ownership by, City Elected Officials

BofA Securities, Inc. ("BofAS") is an indirect, wholly-owned subsidiary of Bank of America, N.A., an indirect, wholly-owned subsidiary of Bank of America Corporation (the "Corporation"), which is a large and diversified, publicly-traded institution. The Corporation and its subsidiaries including BofAS, had approximately 208,000 full-time equivalent employees as of December 31, 2019, and is a global franchise, serving customers and clients around the world with operations across the U.S., and more than 35 countries. Additionally, as of December 31, 2019, the Corporation had approximately $2.4 trillion dollars in assets under management. With the foregoing understanding, and in consideration of the confidential nature of our relationships with our many hundreds of thousands of clients, employees and shareholders, it is not reasonably feasible to perform such definitive due diligence spanning the full panoply of all of BofAS' and its related entities' departments, customers, employees, and principals to definitively determine if there are any such relationships which may currently pose a conflict of interest to our proposed relationship with you.

However, it is BofAS' intent that no other relationship, direct or indirect, can or would affect or impact its performance under any contract with you. We also note that all employees of the Corporation and its affiliates and subsidiaries including BofAS, are subject to a written Code of Conduct which each employee is required to read and acknowledge in writing on an annual basis, that requires all employees to disclose and receive appropriate approvals for any outside activities and relationships that may pose a conflict of interest to the Corporation or its affiliates and subsidiaries, and its business activities; as a result of those disclosures, no material conflicts have been identified.

In addition, with respect to those individuals supporting this transaction, BofAS confirms to the best of its knowledge and upon reasonable review that there are no conflicts of interest with the City of Chicago, or other entities that would disqualify BofAS from performing the requested services.

Attachment for Section V.: {BofAS}

Disclosing Party certifies, as set forth below, to the best of its knowledge and belief that with respect to V.B.3.a.:

To the best of our knowledge and belief, after reasonable due diligence, neither BofA Securities, Inc. ("BofAS") nor its Executive Officers and Directors identified in Section II.B.1 of this EDS has had its authorization to act as a federal contractor revoked or suspended. No such information with respect to state or local entities is reported or to the best of our knowledge maintained separately.

V.B.3.b, c and e:

On May 11, 2019, BofAS agreed with Merrill Lynch, Pierce, Fenner & Smith Incorporated ("MLPF&S") to assume the assets and liabilities of the Global Banking and Markets business previously conducted by MLPF&S, including the regulatory and legal matters below.

In the ordinary course of business, BofAS is subject to regulatory examinations, information gathering requests, inquiries, and investigations ("Regulatory Inquiries") by various federal or state securities regulatory agencies and attorneys general, other local, state, and federal agencies, law enforcement, and self-regulatory organizations (collectively, "Regulators"); and is on occasion a defendant in or party to pending threatened legal actions and proceedings. In connection with formal and informal Regulatory Inquiries, BofAS receives numerous requests, subpoenas and orders for documents, testimony and information in connection with various aspects of their regulated activities, and in some cases regulatory action has been taken against BofAS. BofAS believes that it has cooperated fully with the Regulators in all such inquiries to date and intends to continue to cooperate fully with the Regulators in all such inquiries involving BofAS in the future.

Bank of America Corporation (the "Corporation"), BofAS's ultimate parent, makes all required disclosures in its Annual Reports on Form 10-K and Quarterly Reports on Form 10-Q, which are updated in Reports on Form 8-K, all of which are filed with the U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission ("SEC") ("Regulatory Filings"). BofAS makes all required disclosures in its Form BD and ADV filings ("Form BD and ADV Filings") with the Financial Industry Regulatory Authority ("FINRA"). Those Regulatory Filings and Form BD and ADV Filings include disclosures of Regulatory Inquiries as required by federal law and applicable regulations. The Regulatory Filings are publicly available on the SEC's website at www.sec.gov. The Form BD Filings are publicly available on the FINRA BrokerCheck system at <http://brokercheck.finra.org/>. The Form ADV filings are publicly available on the SEC's Investment Adviser Search website at: <http://www.adviserinfo.sec.gov/IAPD/default.aspx>.

The Corporation cannot confirm or deny the existence of any other, non-public Regulatory Inquiry conducted by any Regulator unless required to do so by law.

Please note the following public matters involving BofAS's public finance business over the past five (5) years:

Municipalities Continuing Disclosure Cooperation Initiative

On June 18, 2015, MLPF&S entered into a settlement with the SEC in connection with the SEC's Municipalities Continuing Disclosure Cooperation ("MCDC") Initiative pursuant to an order and standardized settlement terms. MLPF&S, along with 71 other municipal underwriting firms, which did not admit or deny the findings, agreed to (i) cease and desist from committing or causing any violations and any future violations of Section 17(a)(2) of the Securities Act of 1933, (ii) pay a $500,000 civil penalty, (iii) retain an independent consultant to review its policies and procedures on due diligence for municipal securities underwriting and (iv) comply with certain undertakings in connection with the retention of such consultant.

Municipal Bond Underwriting False Claims Act Lawsuits

Since January 2016, the Corporation has been served, along with a number of other banks, with lawsuits brought by Roger Hayes and Talbot Heppenstall (the "Relators") in Illinois, California, New Jersey and New York under those state's respective False Claims Acts. In each case, the Relators allege that the defendants falsely represented to state and municipal officials that they would obtain the lowest yields/highest prices for new negotiated municipal bond offerings in order to secure underwriting engagements for those offerings. The Illinois lawsuit was dismissed by the trial court without prejudice in September 2017. The California lawsuit was dismissed by the trial court with prejudice in March 2019. The New Jersey lawsuit was dismissed by the trial court without prejudice in early May 2019. The Relators voluntarily discontinued the New York lawsuit in June 2019. To date, the Attorney Generals of each of the states have declined to join in the lawsuits.

VRDO False Claims Act Lawsuits

Since November 2017, the Corporation has been served, along with a number of other banks, with lawsuits brought by Edelweiss Fund, LLC ("Edelweiss") in Illinois, California, Massachusetts and New York under those state's respective False Claims Acts. In February 2019, the Massachusetts state court permitted the substitution of Bjorn Johan Rosenberg for Edelweiss as the relator in the case. In each case, Edelweiss and Rosenberg purport to assert claims that the defendants engaged in a coordinated "robo-setting" scheme under which they allegedly set the rates for Variable Rate Demand Obligations ("VRDOs") mechanically in order to keep the rates artificially high and thereby reduce the chances of having to remarket the bonds. The Massachusetts lawsuit was dismissed by the trial court in July 2019. To date, the Attorney Generals of each of these states have declined to join in the lawsuits.

VRDO Antitrust Actions

On February 20, 2019, the City of Philadelphia filed a putative antitrust class action complaint in the U.S. District Court for the Southern District of New York alleging that several of the Corporation's affiliates and affiliates of six other large banks, acting in their capacity as remarketing agents for VRDOs, conspired between 2008 and 2016 to artificially inflate interest rates on VRDOs to the detriment of their municipal issuer customers. The complaint asserts causes of action (i) under Section 1 of the Sherman Antitrust Act and Sections 4 and 16 of the Clayton Antitrust Act, (ii) for breach of contract, and (iii) for unjust enrichment. On March 25, 2019, the Mayor and City Council of Baltimore, Maryland filed a similar class action antitrust complaint in the U.S. District Court for the Southern District of New York against several Bank of America affiliates and affiliates of other banks. The trial judge has ordered the cases to be consolidated.

Puerto Rico Lawsuits

On May 2, 2019, the Financial Oversight and Management Board for Puerto Rico ("FOMB"), as a representative of the Commonwealth and other debtor entities in the Puerto Rico bankruptcy, filed an adversary complaint in U.S. District Court for the District of Puerto Rico against Bank of America and numerous other financial institutions that served as underwriters on 17 bond issuances by the Commonwealth of Puerto Rico and its instrumentalities in the years leading up to the bankruptcy. The FOMB asserts claims against the underwriters for: (i) aiding and abetting breaches of fiduciary duty on the theory that the bonds deepened the Commonwealth's insolvency and violated Puerto Rico's constitutional debt limits, (ii) rescission of transfer under Puerto Rico and Federal Bankruptcy laws on the theory that the underwriters received fees in connection with the bonds without delivering any value to the Commonwealth because the bonds only increased the Commonwealth's insolvency, (iii) unjust enrichment based on the fees the underwriters received in connection with the bonds, and (iv) breach of the underwriting agreements by insufficiently disclosing in the offering documents the compensation the underwriters received and potential conflicts of interest. The complaint also alleges that certain underwriters entered into interest rate swap agreements with the Commonwealth and asserts claims related to those swap agreements for (i) aiding and abetting breaches of fiduciary duty on the theory that the swap counterparties encouraged the Commonwealth to pass legislation allowing the swaps and then encouraged the Commonwealth to enter into the swaps in connection with bonds they underwrote, and (ii) unjust enrichment based on termination fees the swap counterparties received.

In addition, MBIA Insurance Corporation and National Public Finance Guarantee Corporation have brought lawsuits in a local court in Puerto Rico against Merrill Lynch and certain affiliates and 8 other underwriters for one or more bonds issued from 2001 to 2007 by the Commonwealth of Puerto Rico and its agencies. The plaintiffs allege that they were induced to insure the bonds based upon defendants assurances that they had reasonably investigated the statements in the Official Statements and that the underwriters had a reasonable basis for believing that the statements were true and complete. The complaint is based on 2 equitable doctrines of Puerto Rican law: Doctrina de Actos Propios (i.e., "doctrine of own acts," which protects a third party who relies in good faith on the veracity of manifestations or actions of another); and Unilateral Declaration of Will (i.e., the creation of an obligation through a unilateral act in the form of a concrete promise on which others are intended to rely).

BofAS's registered officers and employees make required disclosures in their Form U-4, which are filed with FINRA pursuant to a directive from the SEC. These Form U-4 filings are publicly available on the FINRA BrokerCheck system at <http://brokercheck.finra.org/>.

V.B.3.d

The Disclosing Party performed due diligence within the Public Finance Group of BofAS to determine whether any Public Finance Group employees were aware of any public finance transactions (federal, state or local) having been terminated for cause or default within the last five years, and none of such employees were aware of any such terminations.

V.B.5.a, b and c - Please see response to V.B.3. b c and e above.

V.B.6 - Please see response to V.B.3. b, c and e above.

In addition, to the best of our knowledge and belief, after reasonable due diligence, BofAS believes that it is not barred from contracting with any unit of State or local government pursuant to 720 ILCS 5/33E-3 or 720 ILCS 5/33E-4 because neither BofAS nor its current employees have been convicted within the past 5 years of violating 720 ILCS 5/33E-3 or 720 ILCS 5/33E-4 or any similar offenses of any state or the United States which contains the same elements as these offenses. Moreover, BofAS is not aware of any former employees who have been convicted within the past 5 years of violating 720 ILCS 5/33E-3 or 720 ILCS 5/33E-4 or any similar offenses of any state or the United States which contains the same elements as these offenses based on conduct that took place while they were employed by BofAS.

V.B.8

To the best of our knowledge and belief, after reasonable due diligence, BofAS believes that it is not ineligible under Section 1-23-020 of the Municipal Code of Chicago because neither BofAS (or any controlling person of BofAS) nor any entity that BofAS has been affiliated with (including BANA and Banc of America Securities LLC ("BAS")) have within the past 5 years been convicted of, admitted guilt to in any civil or criminal proceeding, or charged with or indicted for any felony or criminal offense for conduct outlined in Section 1-23-020(a). Finally, BofAS believes that it is not ineligible under Section 2-92-320 of the Municipal Code of Chicago because neither BofAS nor its current employees have within the past 5 years been convicted of or made an admission of guilt regarding the items outlined in 2-92-320 (a)(1)-(3) or violated the items identified in 2-92-320(a)(4). Moreover, BofAS is not aware of any former employees who have been convicted of or made an admission of guilt within the past 5 years regarding the items outlined in 2-92-320 (a)(1)-(3) or violated the items identified in 2-92-320(a)(4) based on conduct that took place while they were employed by BofAS.

Section VB12-13/Appendix A

BofA Securities, Inc. ("BofAS") is an indirect, wholly-owned subsidiary of Bank of America, N.A., an indirect, wholly-owned subsidiary of Bank of America Corporation (the "Corporation"), which is a large and diversified, publicly-traded institution. The Corporation and its subsidiaries including BofAS, had approximately 208,000 full-time equivalent employees as of December 31, 2019; and is a global franchise, serving customers and clients around the world with operations across the U.S., and more than 35 countries. With the foregoing understanding, and in consideration of the confidential nature of our relationships with our many hundreds of thousands of clients, employees and shareholders, it is not reasonably feasible to perform such definitive due diligence spanning the full panoply of all of BofAS' and its related entities' departments, customers, employees, and principals to definitively determine if there are any such relationships which may currently pose a conflict of interest to our proposed relationship with you.

However, it is BofAS' intent that no other relationship, direct or indirect, can or would affect or impact its performance under any contract with you. We also note that all employees of the Corporation and its affiliates and subsidiaries including BofAS, are subject to a written Code of Conduct which each employee is required to read and acknowledge in writing on an annual basis, that requires all employees to disclose and receive appropriate approvals for any outside activities and relationships that may pose a conflict of interest to the Corporation or its affiliates and subsidiaries, and its business activities; as a result of those disclosures, no material conflicts have been identified.

In addition, with respect to those individuals supporting this transaction, BofAS confirms to the best of its knowledge and upon reasonable review that there are no conflicts of interest with the City of Chicago, or other entities that would disqualify BofAS from performing the requested services.

Attachment for Section V.D:

Please note that the Disclosing Party is a subsidiary of Bank of America Corporation ("BAC"). BAC and its subsidiaries had approximately 208,000 full-time equivalent employees as of December 31, 2019. Accordingly, it is not possible for BAC to perform due diligence across the full panoply of associates and BAC-related entities in preparing a response to business relationships with City of Chicago elected officials. In responding to this question, the Disclosing Party did perform due diligence within the Public Finance Group of BofA Securities, Inc. to determine whether any of the Public Finance Group's employees were aware of any such relationships between the City elected officials and the Disclosing Party within the past 12 months.

Section III – Income or Compensation to, Or Ownership by, City Elected Officials

NB Holdings Corporation (“NB”) is an direct, wholly-owned subsidiary of Bank of America, N.A., an indirect, wholly-owned subsidiary of Bank of America Corporation (the “Corporation”), which is a large and diversified, publicly-traded institution. The Corporation and its subsidiaries including NB, had approximately 208,000 full-time equivalent employees as of December 31, 2019, and is a global franchise, serving customers and clients around the world with operations across the U.S., and more than 35 countries. Additionally, as of December 31, 2019, the Corporation had approximately $2.4 trillion dollars in assets under management. With the foregoing understanding, and in consideration of the confidential nature of our relationships with our many hundreds of thousands of clients, employees and shareholders, it is not reasonably feasible to perform such definitive due diligence spanning the full panoply of all of NB’s and its related entities’ departments, customers, employees, and principals to definitively determine if there are any such relationships which may currently pose a conflict of interest to our proposed relationship with you.

However, it is NB’s intent that no other relationship, direct or indirect, can or would affect or impact its performance under any contract with you. We also note that all employees of the Corporation and its affiliates and subsidiaries including NB, are subject to a written Code of Conduct which each employee is required to read and acknowledge in writing on an annual basis, that requires all employees to disclose and receive appropriate approvals for any outside activities and relationships that may pose a conflict of interest to the Corporation or its affiliates and subsidiaries, and its business activities; as a result of those disclosures, no material conflicts have been identified.

In addition, with respect to those individuals supporting this transaction, NB confirms to the best of its knowledge and upon reasonable review that there are no conflicts of interest with the City of Chicago, or other entities that would disqualify NB from performing the requested services.

Attachment for Section V. {NB Holdings Corporation}

Disclosing Party certifies, as set forth below, to the best of its knowledge and belief that with respect to V.B.3.a.:

To the best of our knowledge and belief, after reasonable due diligence, neither NB Holdings Corporation ("NB Holdings") nor its Directors and Executive Officers identified in Section II.B.1 of this EDS is subject to any order, judgment or decree by any court or government authority in which it is barred, suspended or otherwise limited from engaging in any type of business practice.

V.B.3.b, c and e:

NB Holdings is a direct wholly-owned subsidiary of Bank of America Corporation ("BAC"). Bank of America Corporation makes all required disclosures regarding itself and its subsidiaries in its Form 10-K as filed with the Securities and Exchange Commission and its Annual Report as posted on its website at <http://investor.bankofamerica.com/phoenix.zhtml?c=71595&p=irol-reportsannual>. In addition, BAC's registered broker-dealer and investment adviser subsidiaries make all required disclosures on their Form BDs as filed with FINRA and their Form ADVs as filed with the SEC. These filings include disclosures of investigations and litigation as required by the SRO's and federal law, and are publicly available. BAC cannot confirm or deny the existence of any other non-public investigation conducted by any governmental agency unless required to do so by law.

V.B.3.d

The Disclosing Party performed due diligence within the Public Finance Group of BofAS to determine whether any Public Finance Group employees were aware of any public finance transactions (federal, state or local) having been terminated for cause or default within the last five years, and none of such employees were aware of any such terminations.

V.B.5.a, b and c - Please see response to V.B.3. b c and e above.

V.B.6 - Please see response to V.B.3. b, c and e above.

In addition, to the best of our knowledge and belief, after reasonable due diligence, BofAS believes that it is not barred from contracting with any unit of State or local government pursuant to 720 ILCS 5/33E-3 or 720 ILCS 5/33E-4 because neither BofAS nor its current employees have been convicted within the past 5 years of violating 720 ILCS 5/33E-3 or 720 LCS 5/33E-4 or any similar offenses of any state or the United States which contains the same elements as these offenses. Moreover, BofAS is not aware of any former employees who have been convicted within the past 5 years of violating 720 ILCS 5/33E-3 or 720 ILCS 5/33E-4 or any similar offenses of any state or the United States which contains the same elements as these offenses based on conduct that took place while they were employed by BofAS.

V.B.8

To the best of our knowledge and belief, after reasonable due diligence, BofAS believes that it is not ineligible under Section 1-23-020 of the Municipal Code of Chicago because neither BofAS (or any controlling person of BofAS) nor any entity that BofAS has been affiliated with (including BANA and Banc of America Securities LLC ("BAS")) have within the past 5 years been convicted of, admitted guilt to in any civil or criminal proceeding, or charged with or indicted for any felony or criminal offense for conduct outlined in Section 1-23-020(a). Finally, BofAS believes that it is not ineligible under Section 2-92-320 of the Municipal Code of Chicago because neither BofAS nor its current employees have within the past 5 years been convicted of or made an admission of guilt regarding the items outlined in 2-92-320 (a)(1)-(3) or violated the items identified in 2-92-320(a)(4). Moreover, BofAS is not aware of any former employees who have been convicted of or made an admission of guilt within the past 5 years regarding the items outlined in 2-92-320 (a)(1)-(3) or violated the items identified in 2-92-320(a)(4) based on conduct that took place while they were employed by BofAS.

Section VB12-13/Appendix A

NB Holdings Corporation ("NB") is an direct, wholly-owned subsidiary of Bank of America, N.A., an indirect, wholly-owned subsidiary of Bank of America Corporation (the "Corporation"), which is a large and diversified, publicly-traded institution. The Corporation and its subsidiaries including NB, had approximately 208,000 full-time equivalent employees as of December 31, 2019, and is a global franchise, serving customers and clients around the world with operations across the U.S., and more than 35 countries. However, it is NB's intent that no other relationship, direct or indirect, can or would affect or impact its performance under any contract with you. We also note that all employees of the Corporation and its affiliates and subsidiaries including NB, are subject to a written Code of Conduct which each employee is required to read and acknowledge in writing on an annual basis, that requires all employees to disclose and receive appropriate approvals for any outside activities and relationships that may pose a conflict of interest to the Corporation or its affiliates and subsidiaries, and its business activities; as a result of those disclosures, no material conflicts have been identified.

In addition, with respect to those individuals supporting this transaction, NB confirms to the best of its knowledge and upon reasonable review that there are no conflicts of interest with the City of Chicago, or other entities that would disqualify NB from performing the requested services.

Attachment for Section V.D:

Please note that the Disclosing Party is a subsidiary of Bank of America Corporation ("BAC"). BAC and its subsidiaries had approximately 208,000 full-time equivalent employees as of December 31, 2019. Accordingly, it is not possible for BAC to perform due diligence across the full panoply of associates and BAC-related entities in preparing a response to business relationships with City of Chicago elected officials. In responding to this question, the Disclosing Party did perform due diligence within the Public Finance Group of BofA Securities, Inc. to determine whether any of the Public Finance Group's employees were aware of any such relationships between the City elected officials and the Disclosing Party within the past 12 months.

9. [FOR APPLICANT ONLY] The Applicant and its Affiliated Entities will not use, nor permit their subcontractors to use, any facility listed as having an active exclusion by the U.S. EPA on the federal System for Award Management ("SAM").
10. 9. [FOR APPLICANT ONLY] The Applicant and its Affiliated Entities will not use, nor permit their subcontractors to use, any facility listed as having an active exclusion by the U.S. EPA on the federal System for Award Management ("SAM").
