RESOLUTION

WHEREAS, tens of thousands of Jewish households call Chicago, the surrounding suburbs and the 50th Ward "home," and our heritage is part of Chicago's rich history; and

WHEREAS, the Jewish American experience has been affected dramatically by the Holocaust with nearly one in four Jewish residents of Chicagoland being descendants of a Holocaust survivor, victim, or refugee; and

WHEREAS, January 27 marks years since the liberation of Auschwitz-Birkenau, the largest Nazi death camp, by the Soviet Army in Poland in 1945; and

WHEREAS, this day is designated internationally by the United Nations as Holocaust Remembrance Day and serves as a day for people across the world to remember the six million Jews killed during the Holocaust alongside the millions of other people killed by Nazis and their >> collaborators; and .

WHEREAS, across the United States, and here in Chicago we have seen a dramatic four-fold increase since 2016 in hate crimes and violence against Jewish people and we must be more vigilant than ever against attacks on the dignity and welfare of ethnic and religious groups; and

WHEREAS, "Ordinary People" is the theme of Holocaust Remembrance Day 2023, a reference to how genocide is facilitated and perpetrated by ordinary people, that other ordinary people turn a blind eye and allow violent acts to take place and those who suffer are ordinary people who have done nothing wrong aside from belong, to the group that has been targeted; Cwo/

WHEREAS, this theme is captured in a quote by Holocaust survivor Elie Wiesel: "What is abnormal is that I am normal. That I survived the Holocaust and went on to love beautiful girls to talk, to write, to have toast and tea and live my life - that is what is abnormal

HEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED, that we, the Members of the City Council of the City Chicago, do hereby recognize Friday, January 27, 2023, as Holocaust Remembrance Day, e pledge - through our continued commitment to the people of Chicago - to honor the memory those who died in the Holocaust, as well as those who survived t wisdom withjthe world. / , // ; // -~~s # // & q

WHEREAS, tens of thousands of Jewish households call Chicago, the surrounding suburbs and the 50th Ward "home," and our heritage is part of Chicago's rich history; and

WHEREAS, the Jewish American experience has been affected dramatically by the Holocaust with nearly, one in four Jewish residents of Chicagoland being descendants of a Holocaust survivor, victim, or refugee; and

WHEREAS, January 27 marks the 78 years since the liberation of Auschwitz-Birkenau, the largest Nazi death camp, by the Soviet Army in Poland in 1945; and

WHEREAS, this day is designated internationally by the United Nations as Holocaust Remembrance Day and serves as a day for people across the world to remember the six million Jews killed during the Holocaust alongside the millions of other people killed by Nazis and their collaborators; and

WHEREAS, across the United States, and here in Chicago we have seen a dramatic four-fold increase since 2016 in hate crimes and violence against Jewish people and we must be more vigilant than ever against attacks on the dignity and welfare of ethnic and religious groups; and

WHEREAS, "Ordinary People" is the theme of Holocaust Remembrance Day 2023, a reference to how genocide is facilitated and perpetrated by ordinary people, that other ordinary people turn a blind eye and allow violent acts to take place and those who suffer are ordinary people who have done nothing wrong aside from belonging to the group that has been targeted;

WHEREAS, this theme is captured in a quote by Holocaust survivor Elie Wiesel: "What is abnormal is that I am normal. That I survived the Holocaust and went on to love beautiful girls, to talk, to write, to have toast and tea and live my life - that is what is abnormal."

THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED, that we, the Members of the City Council of the City of Chicago, do hereby recognize Friday, January 27, 2023, as Holocaust Remembrance Day, and pledge - through our continued commitment to the people of Chicago - to honor the memory of those who died in the Holocaust, as well as those who survived to share their experiences and wisdom with the world.
