17-13-0403-D the potential of the district to support additional industrial uses and increased manufacturing employment: As of February 2020, there were 1222 jobs located in the district. Given the City owned lots available for cost-effective development, the TIF, Enterprise Zone, benefits likely through Chicago's Opportunity Zones, significant access to transportation, and availability of a highly-skilled workforce, the district has significant potential to support additional industrial uses and manufacturing employment and this rezoning request furthers those goals.

17-13-0403-E the proportion of land in the district currently devoted to industrial uses: As of October 2018, 27% of the companies in the district are food manufacturers and this is growing. In 2017, approximately 27% of the jobs in the district were related to the production of goods.

17-13-0403-F the proportion of land in the district currently devoted to non-manufacturing uses: As of October 2018, 23% of the companies in the district are transportation, distribution and logistics companies, and the warehousing and distribution uses are growing rapidly given proximity to transit. In 2017, approximately 70% of the jobs in the district were industrial related, services, and 3% were related to office and retail uses.

17-13-0403-G the area's importance to the city as an industrial district: The Burnside Industrial District is a solid, contributing employment area of the City, and the current rezoning request to C3 allows for very similar and compatible uses as the current M1, while also allowing for creation of jobs which are consistent with the trend of employment in the area.
