

occupants of a building between inspection and resolution of a violation, as well as advice as to how city inspectors and departments can learn from the tragedy in New York City to avoid a disaster of this nature in the city of Chicago.