WHEREAS, Upon hearing the radio transmission requesting emergency medical assistance nearby, Bike Team 1 of the North Avenue Beach EMS Patrol, along with Med Cart 1, also responded to help in any way possible; and

WHEREAS, Arriving first on the scene, Engine Company 22 found a severely injured man, whose motorcycle apparently had been hit by a car, bleeding profusely from his leg, which was severed below the knee; and

WHEREAS, Wasting no time, and following medical protocol to the letter, the responding firefighters applied a Combat Application Tourniquet to the man's leg to stanch the bleeding, deftly assisting the man, whose life was imperiled by his grievous wound; and

WHEREAS, Meanwhile, paramedics from Ambulance 43, Bike Team 1 and Med Cart 1 arrived and began administering additional life-saving measures in a valiant effort to save the man's life; and

WHEREAS, Working seamlessly together, responding firefighters and paramedics administered Advanced Life Support care to the victim of this tragic accident, while preparing him for transport as a trauma patient to Northwestern Memorial Hospital. The members of Bike Team 1 and Med Cart 1 followed Ambulance 43 to the hospital with the injured man's personal belongings; and

WHEREAS, The coordinated effort by Engine Company 22, Ambulance 43, Bike Team T and Med Cart 1 to provide a critically injured patient with the best possible opportunity for survival is a textbook example of the type of teamwork that is needed to save a life under particularly intense and difficult circumstances; and

WHEREAS, The City of Chicago owes an enormous debt of gratitude to Lieutenant Hector Rivera, Engineer Philip Holzman and Firefighters Scott Malito, Laura Alonso and Eric Johnson of Engine Company 22, and to Paramedic In Charge Dawn Wahlgren and Paramedic Salvatore Dinolfo of Ambulance 43, and to Paramedic In Charge Vincent Zittman and Paramedic Nicholas O'Connor of Bike Team 1, and to Paramedic In Charge Christopher Sergei and Paramedic Joseph Peters of Med Cart 1, for their successful joint effort to aid the victim of a terrible motorcycle accident; now, therefore,
